Strategy for a company means to identify the potential within the company and set the way for winning the competition. An important role to this is HR, an HR leader is responsible to understand how the business environment is changing, the potential and opportunities lay inside the company, and their unique position to contribute in building company competitive advantages through HR programs such as talent management, capability building and organizational transformation.

[The role of HR Business Partner is to drive the best in people and organization to achieve the business goal]

However in reality, there are many HR leaders who could not succeed in this. The low awareness in company achievement, lack of perspective and ability to see business from helicopter point of view are some symptoms that HR leaders may lack of speediness in responding to the world changes.

In this webinar a senior HR Director from multi-national company who is experienced in executing HR business partner concepts and a business leader, will discuss on their experiences and cases related to company strategy and HR issues together with participants.

This Webinar will be useful for HR leaders and business leaders who want to gain the best business performance utilizing strategy in Human Resources.
